Name of the inventory		Personal- Social Development Self-Efficacy Inventory
Purpose:		To assess and monitor students' attainment of personal-social competencies.
Developers/ citation		Life Skills Development and Comprehensive Guidance Programme. (2004) Personal - Social Development Self-Efficacy Inventory: Users' Manual. [Online].
Year		2004
Targeted user		Senior secondary school students in Hong Kong
Description	No. of questions	60
	Scale	6 point scale: 1 = Extremely Not Confident 2 = Not Confident 3 = Hardly Confident 4 = Fairly Confident 5 = Confident 6 = Extremely Confident
	Data collection format	Self report
	Scoring key	Each respondent had fifteen category total scores by adding the four item scores in each category, fifteen category mean scores by dividing each category total score by four, and one total mean score of career development by adding the fifteen category mean scores first, and then dividing with fifteen .The lowest score is 1, the high score is 6.
Remarks		Originally designed as a group assessment instrument. It was not meant to be used as diagnostic or screening instrument for individual students.